C. P. R. R. T. S.

The Winnipeg board of trade recently addressed the president of the C. P. R. asking for a reduction in grain to Fort William from Manitoba points to those of the Canadian Northern. That is, two cents less. The plea was that the C. P. R. had offered to carry at that rate if given the Northern Pacific lines, and that towns served only by the C. P. R. were at a disadvantage as compared with those served by the C. N. R. The following is the important part of President Shaugnessy's reply:

"It is quite true that the company when negotiating with the government of Manitoba for the lease of the Northern Pacific lines, offered as a feature of the proposed arrangement, to make a gradual reduction in its wheat rates, year by year, to a basis of 10c per 100 lbs. in 1902, and to make special reductions in the rates on some other commodities. This increase in the volume of contributed traffic would result, and probable immunity from further unfair and unbusinesslike competition of railways constructed almost entirely at the expense of government, was our justification for the proposal.

However, the government apparently thought it in the best interests of the province that a different arrangement should be made, and, as a consequence, the Northern Pacific lines were leased to the Canadian Northern company, the government at the same time assuming an enormous contingent liability in connection with the bonds covering the Canadian Northern property. As a consideration for this and other concessions, the Canadian Northern company who had everything to gain and nothing to lose by securing a guarantee for its bonds, entered into an undertaking to reduce its grain rates 2c per 100 lbs. in the present time and 2c more later on, thereby, on reasonable men will contend that the action of the provincial government imposed upon the Canadian Pacific an obligation to make any similar reduction in its rates as a recognition of favors granted to its competitor.

If, however, the maintenance of the higher rate were injurious to the interests of grain producers along the Canadian Pacific lines by compelling them to accept for their crops a price per 100 lbs. less than was being paid where the lower rate prevailed, there might be just grounds for complaint, but has this been the case? On the contrary, it is not a fact that the farmers along the Canadian Pacific line, in territory contiguous to the Canadian Northern lines, have been and are receiving just as high prices for their wheat. Indeed, to go a little further, it is a fact that these reductions, made in grain rates from time to time have had but little effect on the price paid to farmers for their wheat. Two cents per 100 lbs. is equivalent to one and one-half cents per bushel. If we take the prices paid yesterday at various stations in the grain-growing districts for the like quality of wheat, we find that the same prices prevailed at Carberry, Brandon, Indian Head, Morris, Emerson, Greta, Melville and Neepawa, although the rate from some of these points to Lake Superior is 2c per 100 lbs. higher than from others. In other words, the farmer at Indian Head, whose rate to Fort William is 10c, receives exactly the same price for his wheat as the farmer at Morris, whose rate is 12c per 100 lbs. and in this connection, it is to be observed that Indian Head is a local station on the Canadian Pacific, while Morris is a competitive point with the Canadian Northern. The price at Oak Lake, Carman and Hiram is alike for the same quality of wheat, although Oak Lake takes the 12c rate while the Carman rate is only 10c, and Carman, too, is a point common to the Canadian Northern as well as the Canadian Pacific. These comparisons, which apply to almost all stations in the grain district, can be followed back, day by day, to the beginning of the grain season. Another striking feature is the fact that the prices paid at stations for wheat since the first of October, in many cases, ranged from 1c to 2c per bushel higher when the Fort William quotations were 13-14c per bushel than they did on the days when the Fort William quotations were 7-8c per bushel and when the difference in Duluth prices was proportionately the same in many instances, this represented a marked gain in grain rates of four or five cents per bushel, or several times the difference in freight rates to which your resolutions have reference.

"Now I know that your resolutions were not framed in any spirit of hostility to the company, but with a view to securing for the farmers the increased price for his crops that would be represented by the scaling down of the rate, because the merchants and manufacturers of the country, like the railway companies, are interested in having the purchasing power of the farmer increased to the highest possible limit, and I am sure, therefore, that your board will, if any feasible plan can be suggested, make every endeavor toward having the advantage of reductions in grain rates go to the farmers instead of being absorbed in marketing charges. To this end you may be assured of our most earnest co-operation.

"While it is our determination that settlers along our lines shall not be prejudiced by any disparity in rates, we do not, at the moment, feel that necessity exists for any change in our tariff, for the reasons given in the earlier part of my letter and because our charges are now a very low basis.

"In your resolutions you quote the rate of grain between St. Paul and Chicago as a fair basis for the rate between Winnipeg and Fort William. There is no propriety in making such a comparison. The railway companies between the two former points serve an old well settled district yielding a large amount of local traffic and a revenue per mile of railway very much in excess of any section of the Canadian Pacific. But what is not shipped in any quantity from St. Paul to Chicago. Minneapolis is a great milling point, and with Duluth, constitutes the market for any wheat that might come from St. Paul. Wheat from Minnesota and the Dakotas goes to Minneapolis. Duluth for milling purposes, or to Duluth for shipment by water in bulk, just as wheat from the Canadian Northwest goes to Winnipeg, Keewauqua and other places for milling purposes, or to Fort William for shipment by water to the east. Therefore, in making a comparison of rates we should select grain stations on the lines of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific where the wages, cost of supplies and other conditions are similar to our own, and compare the rates from these points on the Canadian Pacific to Fort William.

"The distance from Neche, on the Great Northern, to Duluth is about 365 miles, and the rate is 15c per 100 pounds, exactly the same as our rate from Emerson to Fort William, a distance of 490 miles. This rate from Minn. to North Dakota, to Duluth, a distance of 504 miles, is 18c, exactly the same as the Canadian Pacific rate from Elkhorn to Fort William, a distance of 423, but the Great Northern rate from Des Moines, the next station west of Minn. and 515 miles from Duluth is 18c, while the Canadian Pacific rate of 18c continues westward as far as Broadview, a distance from Fort William of 490 miles.

"I merely wish to emphasize the fact that the farmers living along the lines of the Canadian Pacific in Northwestern Canada have a lower schedule of rates for the carriage of their grain than those living in corresponding districts south of the international boundary line, and, at the same time, to express regret that our farmers so frequently fail to get the benefit of these low rates in the sale of their wheat, for reasons quite beyond the control of the railway company.

Manitoba Weather and Crops.
Commercial, Nov. 15.—The colder weather, which set in on Saturday last, has continued this week. A light snow may be said to have come to ground last Saturday all over the country. By reason of frost in the ground, more snow has fallen this week, but there is not enough yet to make sleighing, except in some districts where the fall of snow was heaviest. Threshing is going on in districts where this work has not been finished, but in some sections many of the machines have finished for the season. More snow is reported to-day, which will doubtless make sleighing.

TEMPLE OF FAME, ROSS HALL, STRATHCONA

A very novel and instructive entertainment entitled "The Temple of Fame" was put on in Ross Hall, Strathcona, Friday evening by amateurs of the town. It was got up under the able supervision of A. Davies, who spared no time or pains to make it a success. The object was the raising of funds to reduce the debt on the new Presbyterian manse.

The hall was crowded for standing room when the curtain went up at 8:30. The "Temple" occupied the body of the stage and consisted of tiers of seats arranged in a semi-circle and tastefully cushioned and decorated. The thrones of the Goddess were erected to the front and one side of the temple and was draped in white.

As the opening instrumental selections were rendered the Goddess (Mrs. Patterson) entered the stage, dressed in flowing robes of white, crowned and attended by two small pages. In a few words she made her decree, throwing open the plot of the play. She called on womanhood to come forward and state her claim to a crown of fame which she now offered to place on the head of the woman of fairest fame. The Goddess then took her place on the throne, wand in hand with her pages at her feet.

One by one the claimants to the crown entered, made their plea, and were assigned a seat in the temple by the Goddess. Their coming was announced by herald in livery (Chris. Rohol), who performed his duties most creditably. The applicants entered in the order given below:

Canada, (Mrs. J. Jackson) dressed in white with Canadian flags and maple leaves, entered and upheld the honor of Canada (Strathcona particularly) in a short bright address, and sang with great effect "The Maple Leaf." She was assigned the top centre seat of the temple.

Queen Victoria, (Mrs. Davison) dressed in black with blue sash, crowned and attended by pages, "God Save the Queen" was rendered by the accompanist as she entered.

Mrs. Gladstone, (Mrs. Thompson) dressed in black and white.

Cleopatra, (Miss Reid) dressed in orange with black trimmings jewelled and decked in eastern fashion.

Ruth, (Miss Jenny Carmichael) dressed in white with red trimmings. She sang very beautifully a reapers song.

Queen of Sheba, (Miss Boyle) dressed in extravagant eastern royal costume, crowned and attended by pages.

Joan of Arc, (Miss Burgess) dressed with armour and helmet and carrying staff.

Hypatia, (Miss Boyle) dressed in white with black belt and gold trimmings and carrying manuscript roll.

Grace Darling, (Miss Edith Martin) dressed in sailor suit and carrying a paddle. She told in simple words the story of her rescue of the nine lives at sea.

Tabitha Primrose, (Miss A. Stewart) dressed in old fashioned style of old colors, with white parasol. She created much amusement by her oddity and ridiculous arguments in favor of woman's rights.

Marie Antoinette, (Mrs. Burkholder) dressed in black with white trimmings, crowned and attended by pages.

Flora McDonald, (Miss Florence Whitney) dressed in highland costume. She entered gaily to the accompaniment of a highland fling and sang with good expression "Will Ye no Come Back Again."

Sister of Charity, (Miss Bleakney) dressed in sister's uniform.

Mrs. Harriet Stowe Beecher, (Mrs. Roberts) dressed in plain black with white sash, accompanied by Topsy (Jacky Jackson) in red dress carrying the regulation "Nigger" doll and creating much merriment.

Mary Queen of Scots, (Mrs. Bower) dressed in black, trimmed with white and gold, crowned, and attended by pages.

Jephthah's Daughter, (Miss Durrand) dressed in white trimmed with orange.

Florence Nightingale, (Mrs. McLaryre) in nurse's costume.

Mrs. Partington, (Miss G. Martin) dressed in gaudy old fashioned style, and the (Fred Kent) the simple looking young hopeful.

Laura Second, (Miss Blain) dressed in white with black lace over the shoulders and carrying Canadian flag.

Pocahontas, (Miss Campbell) dressed in Indian girl's costume, carrying bow and arrow, hatchet and knife.

Bridget O'Flanagan, (Miss McKenzie) dressed as Irish "biddy", she created much fun with her plea for the crown and recital of her wrongs.

Queen Elizabeth, (Mrs. Hosson) richly dressed in representative costume, crowned and attended by pages.

Helen of Troy (Miss Dunn) dressed in white trimmed with gold braid and decorated with jewels.

Frances Willard, (Miss Grant) plainly dressed and wearing the white ribbon badge.

Mrs. Josiah Allen, (Mrs. Mills) dressed in rich black, with parasol and small bonnet.

Rosa Bonheur, (Mrs. McKenzie) dressed as a landscape painter.

Madame Patti, (Mrs. W. Jackson) dressed in red and green shot. She sang with much effect and answered an encore.

Mother Goose, (Miss Currie) dressed in Mother Goose fashion, followed by two children.

Barbara Freitchie, (Mrs. Ross) dressed as plain old lady, carrying the Union Jack. She recited with splendid diction the famous stanzas of "Barbara Freitchie."

Girl of the Period, (Miss Panny Martin) dressed as the lady mayor of Strathcona in the year 2002. She stated the good work being done by woman-kind in passing suitable by-laws to keep men in his proper sphere.

Mother, (Mrs. Holden) simply dressed and leading two little children, a girl and a boy, by the hand.

As she made her plea, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," the Goddess descended from her throne and beckoning the mother to kneel before her, placed on her head the much envied "Crown of Fame" showing that the mother's sphere is worthy of the fairest fame.

She then addressed the occupants of the temple praising them for their good work done, and all rising to their feet except Queen Victoria, the meeting was brought to a close by singing "God Save the Queen."

After the audience had left the actors assembled again on the stage and flashlight photos were taken by photographer Tighe.

The proceeds amounted to about $125. Much credit is due all who took part in it as a great amount of patient practice was gone through and much labor was entailed in some of the very elaborate costumes.

The organizers were Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Chamberlain.

The play will be repeated in Edmonton this week or next. It is a high class amateur entertainment and was given the best of receptions in Strathcona.

CONJURING CREEK

It is with deep regret we have to report the sad occurrence of the 9th inst. with Charles Buckle, about 12 a. m. Sunday morning. C. Buckle went over with his dog to his neighbor's Rowell, saying he had nothing to eat for several days and asked them for some food for himself and dog. As he talked at random, they could see something was wrong with him so Mrs. Rowell ran about a mile to C. Buckle's brother leaving C. Buckle at home with her husband and two little children.

His brother William went and got his nearest neighbor, Mr. Heedle, and then went over and got Mr. Moulson, and Mr. Youmans, and Mr. Frank Clifford, and sent them up to Mr. Rowell's farm to take care of C. Buckle. About 12 p. m. he wanted to go home so they took him to his own house. W. Buckle told the men that C. Buckle had a gun, rifle and revolver. Mr. Clifford watched the opportunity and got the rifle and gun down and handed them to Mr. Youmans' at the door who took them outside and hid them.

Mr. Clifford got some refreshments for the men and made the excuse of looking for supplies to search for the revolver, but could not find it. Wm. kept the revolver in a big box and the men sat with their backs to this box.

About 6:30 a. m. Charles Buckle ordered Clifford to leave the house and bring back his gun and rifle. Clifford left, thinking to quiet him. Then Charles blew out the light and Heedle and Youmans lit matches at the same time to relight the lamp. By the light of the matches Charles fired at Heedle, the bullet striking him in the temple. He pulled twice on a Mr. Moulson, but the revolver missed fire both times.

The men then left the house and ran to Mr. Rowell's place and took him over to Heedle's, where Mrs. Rowell had gone with the children. Moulson then went over for Wm. Buckle and together they went up to Charles Buckle's place. Charles had followed the men to Heedle's, but returned to his farm, arriving home just as Moulson and Wm. Buckle got there. Wm. told Moulson to cover Charles with a gun while he took the revolver from him. Charles, seeing himself cornered, gave up the revolver.

Wm. then went and told Mrs. Heedle to go up to Charles Buckle's as her husband was hurt there. Sufficient men had gathered there to capture Charles.

Clifford and Moulson stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Heedle till he breathed his last about 2:30 p. m.

The same day Charles was taken to Leduc tied in a sleigh. The doctor at Leduc, who had been sent for shortly after the shooting, did not arrive until after Heedle's death, but he could not have saved him had he arrived before.

The funeral of Mr. Heedle took place at the Creek cemetery on the following Wednesday. His brother of Oklahoma N. S. A., who had been telegraphed for, arrived for the funeral. Mrs. Heedle was prostrated with grief, and a der many friends feel for her in her sad bereavement.

Humble public school closes on the 1st of December.

F. Clifford is on a visit to Edmonton.

Miss England, who has spent the summer in Calgary, has returned home.

Threshing is expected to start next week. A small horse power machine has been working on the outside of the settlement for some time past, and we are glad to hear that some of our farmers have formed a company and purchased a machine, as there is a lot of threshing on the Creek. It has been usually very late in the season before a machine gets here.

AS SEEN BY A MICHIGAN MAN.

S. F. Munson, of Caro, Michigan, who recently visited Edmonton has a write up of what he saw on the trip in a recent issue of the Caro Journal. Mr. Munson says:

From Calgary we went north to Red Deer and found we could get home-steads from 12 to 20 miles out! The soil around here was good and the crops fine. We met many Michigan people, but the greater number were from the western states. We went north from Red Deer to Ponoka and stopped to see a former Mayville man, Norman Wiltse, who went there three years ago last May. Mr. Wiltse told me that when he arrived at Ponoka the town consisted of four buildings, all log, and this is the business part of Ponoka, September '02. Four general stores, two hardware, a meat market, confectionery store, drug store, furniture store, millinery, harness shop, fire real estate offices, two liveries, two hotels, three boarding houses, three blacksmith shops, four lumber offices, one photograph gallery, two banks, both started business this summer, four churches, a high school, two saw mills and one flour and feed mill. When Mr. Wiltse arrived in Ponoka he homesteaded four and one-half miles north and now the settlers are out from 15 to 25 miles in all directions. Mr. Wiltse has his patent (deed) for his homestead and has been offered $3 per acre for his land. His oats went 20 bushels, wheat 45 and potatoes 350 bushels per acre last year. The soil at Ponoka is a deep black vegetable mould with a clay subsoil. This country is about 70 per cent prairie and 30 per cent timber and brush.

From Ponoka we went north to Edmonton, the end of the line. Here we found a town of several thousand people and the old central point for the Hudson's Bay Fur Co. for over a hundred years. The east part has many old buildings, relics of the furtrading days, but the west portion is new and up-to-date. We spent Tuesday, September 16th, looking over the town and found several hundred houses in the course of construction. There seemed to be a demand for carpenters, as on many occasions we were told that the owners couldn't make good progress on account of the shortage of carpenters and bricklayers. The town has electric lights, waterworks, and a sewer system just completed. And a person desiring to rent a house finds the same difficulty we do here in Chicago. I thought the town a good place to live in and purchased lots 187, 188 and 189, block 6, of the newly opened Hudson's Bay reserve. After looking the town over we made arrangements with the land guide, Mr. J. W. Baker, to take us to the homestead lands north and west of Edmonton. (We did not desire to go east for the homesteads are taken for 100 miles out), agreeing to pay him $5 per day and expenses until we returned. So we got a tent, guns, blankets, provisions. For seven days and started. Mr. Baker agreeing to furnish meals for the crew from the thousands of wild ducks that hatch around the lakes on the prairies. And he made good his promise by killing 25 ducks and prairie chickens, five of which were credited to us. We drove through St. Albert, a small town 10 miles north, and left Wednesday night, north of Morinville, another village, 20 miles north.

Here we found crops looking fine, range cattle fat; no corn fed steers from Michigan could compete with them in flesh. Some cows with calves at their side would weigh from 1,400 to 1,800 lbs. and mostly well-bred Dutchmans, white face, and Galloways. We drove north another 10 miles and then came to the watered lands. Here we found about 50 per cent of the land covered with the wild grass that had kept the buffalo fat for years and in the judgment of our party, would go from one to three tons per acre. Part of us homesteaded here and bought section 7, township 58, range 25 west, of the fourth meridian, paying $3 per acre for the railroad land with one-tenth down, the homesteads costing us $19 a piece, being all that is required to secure 160 acres of the most productive land it has been my privilege to see. The after considerations are 18 months residence, six in a year, or fencing 80 acres of the homestead and pasturing for three years. This gives a person a chance to live in the town if he chooses and still procure a homestead. The soil here is the characteristic of Alberta, black vegetable mould on top with a clay sub-soil. The land is about 5 per cent good building timber and 25 per cent small brush, the remainder prairie. We then drove southwest and on Sunday morning camped near Lake St. Anne, 30 miles west of Edmonton. This lake is 12 miles long and contains many fine specimens of white and various other kinds of fish. We found the wealthy people of Edmonton had bought small pieces of lake front to use for summer homes, and one of our party who had not fully made up his mind where to locate, picked a quarter section one mile south of the lake being the north-east corner of section 10, township 54, range 3 west of the fifth meridian. The land here is a sandy sub-soil, shallow mould and foliage not so thick on the ground, but the beautiful lake was a temptation and the lone member having a decided liking for the fishy bowl decided that fish would make up for the poor soil. All through the clay sub-soil parts we found oats averaging from 80 to 100 bushels, wheat 90 to 45, and potatoes 300 to 600 bushels per acre. These are light and wages are good, and no danger of the soil becoming exhausted or ceasing to respond to the labor of the farmer, and the finest climate in the world being in the latitude of Dublin, Liverpool and Hamburg. Cattle can do well all winter without hay or shelter, the warm winds from the Pacific coast making the winters pleasant.

I believe Edmonton to be the great coming city of the Northwest, and is today the distributing point for a thousand miles north of it. Where to locate is a question to be decided by the individual himself. There are inducements in every part of the country, also free homesteads and Canadian Pacific railroad lands at $3.00 per acre. We decided that Western Canada would be our home after March, and we thoroughly believe if many in Michigan really understood the fine openings in western Canada, they would be eager to secure the land when it is going or improve the fine chances for business in the rapidly growing towns.

LACKNEY SETTLEMENT TO THE FRONT.

Baker school district, No. 523, held their annual school entertainment on Friday evening, Nov. 14th, when a well arranged and well rendered program was very attentively listened to by a large number of people. In fact the school room was so well filled that the audience had to close up whenever it was necessary to open the door.

At 8 o'clock the programme commenced with a chorus entitled "Greeting Song" composed for the occasion by our teacher (Miss Zola I. Campbell, Strathcona) and for two hours and a half the people were delighted listening to the children reciting and singing. Nothing can show better how carefully the children had been trained than that the audience for all that time never showed the least sign of weariness.

The people of the district were proud of their school and also of their teacher, particularly after she received a very pretty compliment from Rev. A. Forbes B. A., of Fort Saskatchewan, who at the close of his remarks said, "Miss Campbell had shown great ability in the training of the children and must feel herself partially repaid for the trouble she had taken in the way the children acquitted themselves."

Refreshments were served by the ladies and greatly appreciated by the gentlemen.

After the refreshments had been disposed of they sang "God Save the King" and went home well pleased.

PONOKA.

Herald, Nov. 21.
A skating rink is being prepared on the river near the Ponoka saw mill.

George Winslow and crew started the first of the week with their threshing. He will thresh in the Ferry Bank and Bear Creek neighborhood northwest of town.

Houston Cox this week purchased a quarter of C. P. R. land from N. B. McGillivray, two miles north of the village for a consideration of $1700.

Harry Huscroft returned Saturday from his trip with a survey party into the foothills of the Rockies. Harry found some things about the trip quite pleasant but has a badly frozen foot as the result of his experience. The thermometer registered 33 below zero out there with snow nearly knee deep.

Eggs are a scarce commodity in the village. Twenty cents per dozen is being paid and they are hard to get at that. Butter likewise promises to be in good demand before spring, though there is a good supply at present at 15c.

The village school board met Wednesday to consider the tenders for furnishing wood for the school for the ensuing year. Several tenders had been received but after careful consideration the board decided not to accept any bids at present.

B. C. Groat was called to Edmonton Monday by telegram stating that Mrs. Groat had suffered a relapse. She is in the hospital at Edmonton where her many friends hope she will receive successful treatment.

Feed promises to be quite plentiful in this immediate community for all local needs during the winter unless the weather should prove unusually severe and the feeding season unusually long. Many inquiries have been made for stock to winter indicating that there are many who have more feed than needed for their own consumption. Hay is selling at $5 per ton delivered.

James Ross has Recovered.
Vancouver Province.
Ex-Governor Ross has practically recovered from his recent illness, and will shortly leave for Dawson.

Last evening Mr. Ross arrived in San Francisco according to a special dispatch from the Province's correspondent in the Golden Gate city. He came up from Los Angeles.

Mr. Ross was almost completely recovered his health, although a slight paralysis exists in his right hand. He says he is well able to return to Dawson by going in over the ice, but his physicians are rather against his taking the winter trip, so that it is not yet definitely decided what time he will go again to Klondike. He will leave San Francisco to-night.

He feels absolute confidence in being able to carry the Yukon constituency in the coming election.

Of the Protestant public school board the retiring trustees are: B. Bellamy and H. C. Taylor, and M. McCauley has resigned.

Of the St. Joachim Roman Catholic Separate school board the retiring members are: N. D. Beck, H. J. Morel and J. N. Pomeroy, and Dr. Roy resigned.

Nominations to fill all the vacancies will be held in the Council Chamber on Monday, Dec. 1, and elections on Dec. 8.

THE SPECIAL SERVICES.

The special evangelistic services which have been conducted in the Presbyterian church during the past two weeks were concluded last evening by a union service, which crowded the church to its fullest capacity. Revs. D. G. McQueen, T. C. Buchanan and A. Macdonald assisted in the service. The sermon was by Rev. Martin Smith, from the text, "The things which are impossible with men are possible with God."—Luke 18, 27. Rev. Mr. Smith is a very effective preacher, and his visit has been productive of much good. He left this morning for Vancouver, but may return in a few weeks.

King Edward Coins.
Qu'Appelle Progress: Five and ten cent pieces minted this year and bearing the head of Edward VII. are becoming plentiful in the west just now. The obverse side bears the inscription "Edwardus VII D. G. Rex Imperator," and the old Latin "u." which is like the modern "v." is considered by many as an error in spelling. The head faces to the right, that is in an opposite direction to the head on all coins minted in Queen Victoria's reign. The reverse side bears the crown at the top and a wreath within which is inscribed 5 (or 10) cents Canada, 1902.

Officers for Soldiers and Sailors Help Society
Regina Leader: Her Royal Highness Princess Christian has been pleased to approve the following appointments of officers for the Northwest Territories of the Soldiers and Sailors Help Society: President, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor; Vice-presidents, Alberta, Hon. Judge Scott, Mrs. J. D. Lafferty; Assiniboia, Thos. Tweed, Mrs. Grisdale; Saskatchewan, J. F. Beets, Brokowsky; Iowa, Treas., A. F. Angus, Regina; non sec., Capt. Gilpin Brown, N. W. M. P. Regina; non-assist. sec., Wm. Trant, J. P. Regina.

Influenza.

Qu'Appelle Progress: An epidemic of this disease is at present sweeping over the American continent and a large number in this town and vicinity are suffering from its dread effects. The little ones particularly are effected and many an anxious parent is watching for improvement. Thus far no specific has been discovered for the disease, nor is there any definite time in which it runs its course. The worst of it is that a severe attack usually lowers the vitality and brings in its train bronchitis, pneumonia, consumption or other kindred ills.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

On Saturday afternoon, Clifford Toll, the 14 year old son of A. W. Toll, Strathcona, met with a very painful and serious shooting accident.
In company with another boy, Fred, Eaton, he had been spending the afternoon chicken shooting west of the town. As they were returning, about 5 p. m., they drove up the Oliver hill, which is rather steep and both boys partially slipped on the buggy seat to a somewhat irregular position. On reaching the top of the hill they straightened themselves up and proceeded to pull up the robe which had slipped down. The gun was under the robe, loaded, and with the barrel leaning under Clifford's left arm under his coat. In settling their position his foot struck the hammer and discharged one barrel. Luckily it happened to be the barrel farthest from his body.

The charge struck him in the armpit, somewhat to the under and backward part tearing away a portion of flesh 5 inches in length and 3 or 4 inches width from the back part of the arm and shoulder. The ribs and shoulder blade were exposed but not broken. The flesh was burned and blackened from the powder and practically prevented bloodshed.

But the boy's clothing also took fire. He jumped out of the rig exclaiming "Fred, I'm shot," and tried to pull off his burning clothes but could not on account of his helpless arm. His companion jumped out and took off his coat and vest.

Clifford then ran back to meet Mr. O. Bush, of Strathcona, who was following the boys. Mr. Bush had heard the report of the gun but a turn in the road hid the boys from him. He suspected an accident had happened and whipped up his horses till he met Clifford coming back. He quickly put out the fire and wrapping his fur coat and robe about him started at a swift pace for Strathcona.

Before they had gone far fire broke out again in Clifford's underclothing and before they could extinguish it he was badly burned over the region of the chest.

Mr. Bush again quenched the fire and hurried the boy to the home of his parents. Doctors Crang and Archibald were called in and after examining the wound decided to have Clifford, the patient, removed to the general hospital, which was done the same evening.

At present Clifford is making good progress. It will be 10 days before he is out of danger, and there is danger that the use of the main chord of the arm may be injured permanently. Great credit is due Mr. Bush for his presence of mind in quenching the fire and wrapping up the boy to protect the wound from the cold.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat has not been coming in in heavy deliveries the last week on account of the bad state of the roads after the soft weather. The Dowling Milling Co. is paying from 40c to 55c per bushel. They are running 10 hours a day milling new wheat, which is giving splendid satisfaction.
Oats are offering in larger quantities but as yet the market is only beginning. Prices this morning are quoted from 18c to 25c per bushel.
Hogs are worth 5c to 5 1/2c per lb. and are in good demand.
Beef is quiet at 2 1/2c live.
Poultry is in fair demand only. Chickens are worth 8c per lb. dressed; ducks 10c; geese, 11c, and turkeys 12c.
Butter is in good demand at 18c to 20c per lb.
Fresh eggs are scarce and worth 25c per dozen.
Potatoes are scarce but it is expected as soon as good shipments come there will be large deliveries. At present prices are quoted from 35c to 45c per bushel.
Hay is worth from $4.50 to $6.00 per ton.
A San Francisco despatch to the Vancouver World dated Saturday, 15th Nov., states: J. H. Ross, former governor of the Yukon Territory, arrived yesterday from Los Angeles, and will go north to-day. He is in excellent health and seems completely recovered from his recent illness. He would go on to Dawson this winter, but the doctors think that he had better not take the risk at this time of the year. He is staying at the Palace Hotel with ex-Governor George Wilkinson and other Dawsonites. Mr. Ross is very sanguine over the mining prospects in the Yukon. He has not the slightest anxiety about the elections, confidently relying on his supporters for an overwhelming majority over Mr. Clarke.

Wireless Telegraph Across Continent
Regina Leader: Mr. J. N. Green-shields, of Montreal, solicitor for the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company, announces that the company is about to establish a system of wireless telegraphy across the Dominion. He says that not only will the company operate a system of wireless telegraphy across the ocean, but also a land line across the continent from Cape Breton to Victoria. Stations will be erected at many points in the Dominion, and all the principal cities and towns of Canada will be included in the system. The principal stations being at Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Saint Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Revelstoke, Kamloops, Vancouver and Victoria. The saving, of tolls will be great when the system is in vogue, for press messages will be sent for one-half the present prices, and there will be a reduction of 60 per cent. on commercial messages. He says there is no longer any doubt regarding the success of the Marconi system, and the official announcement to this effect can be expected at any time.
